It will also see the introduction of new Modern and Luxury models to sit between SE and M Sport.

World Premiere and Launch Date

The new BMW 5 Series Saloon and Touring will start official production in July 2013 at the Dingolfing factory in Germany. The world premiere will be at the IAA in Frankfurt from the 12 - 22 September.

Exterior styling changes

At the front of the new BMW 5 Series Saloon and Touring are the newly designed Xenon headlights which now come as standard. They incorporate a new LED eyebrow for a more focused look while Adaptive LED headlights and LED fog lights are available as options. The more prominent shark nose kidney grille and front bumper give an increased dynamic look while at the side the signal indicators move from the side gills to the exterior mirrors.

To the rear the taillights feature new Thin Blade technology, which provides clear defined light to the vehicle making it instantly recognisable as a BMW. The accent line on the lower bumper has also been altered to give a wider, lower stance, for greater visual impact.

Standard equipment enhancements

In addition to the standard Xenon headlights, all BMW 5 Series Saloon and Touring models will come with the BMW Business Advanced Navigation system (Luxury models and all ActiveHybrid 5 models feature the BMW Professional Multimedia Navigation system as standard), BMW Emergency Call which is now valid for lifetime, and a complete range of EU6 compliant engines.

Modern and Luxury model introductions

From July the new Modern and Luxury models help to provide greater customer choice to the BMW 5 Series range and provide a conquest opportunity from the likes of traditional Jaguar, Lexus and Volvo customers. Modern is available for all 4-cylinder engines and ActiveHybrid 5 whilst Luxury is available for all 5 Series Saloon and Touring models.

Modern models feature Matt Aluminium elements including that of the exterior trim and inserts to both the front and rear bumpers while the exhaust tailpipes are finished in Matt Chrome. Luxury models sees the use of chrome design elements to the exterior trim, front and rear bumper inserts while the exhaust tailpipe finishers are also in Chrome. Both models offer exclusive 18" alloy wheels as standard with 19" alloy wheels available as an option.

The standard Dakota leather features stitching and exclusive upholstery colours for Modern and Luxury models, while the Modern also features Sport seats as standard. Both models also offer a variety of exclusive optional interior trims. Luxury models also feature the BMW Professional Multimedia Navigation system as standard including the new iDrive Touch Controller.

SE and M Sport models

SE models will no longer include halogen front fog lights as standard; however LED fog lights are available as an option. As part of the revised model line up, SE models will no longer be available for 6-cylinder models, with the exception of ActiveHybrid 5 and 530d.

M Sport models see the addition of a new M Sport steering wheel currently seen on the 3 Series range, and the standard M Sport alloy wheel will be replaced by a new 18" M Double-spoke style 613M wheel. M Sport models can also be specified at no cost with the Dakota leather featuring Exclusive stitching as featured on Luxury models.

A new M Sport Plus package will be introduced for all 5 Series M Sport Saloon and Touring models providing a customer saving of up to £660. The package, priced at £2,000 for Saloon models and £1,850 for Touring models includes 19" M Double-spoke style 351M wheels, Sun protection glass, harman/kardon loudspeaker system and an M rear spoiler for 5 Series Saloon models.

Engine improvement highlights and portfolio

Across the engine portfolio the new BMW 5 Series Saloon and Touring models see CO₂ emissions reductions, fuel economy improvements on selected models and 0-62mph performance time improvements for automatic transmission models. As an example, the new 520d SE Saloon achieves a CO₂ figure of 119g/km for both manual and automatic transmission – a figure that was previously achievable by the 520d EfficientDynamics model which offered only a manual transmission. From July the 520d EfficientDynamics model will therefore be discontinued given the enhancement to the standard 520d Saloon, which also manages to match the outgoing EfficientDynamics model for fuel economy.

From LCI, 530i Saloon and Touring models have been discontinued whilst 530d and 535i models will receive automatic transmission as standard equipment with no manual transmission variant available. For further information please refer to the technical data sections in the Product Libraries.

Tactical Support

Full details of tactical support for the new 5 Series Saloon and Touring models will be provided in a Sales Bulletin, week commencing 20 June 2013.
